Second Concerto for Orchestra

National Orchestral Institute Philharmonic • David Alan Miller

This is the third recording in a multi-year partnership between the National Orchestral Institute Philharmonic and Naxos to release one album of American music each year. A study in dramatic contrasts, Carl Ruggles' Sun-Treader is an overwhelming, granite-hued tone poem by one of New England's most original and uncompromising composers. Steven Stucky's luminous Pulitzer Prize-winning Second Concerto for Orchestra is a riveting exploration of sonority and sound-painting while John Harbison's Fourth Symphony is a big, bold, jazz-imbued work by one of America's most important living symphonists.

Key Features:

- This release brings together three American orchestral masterpieces in a program that will impress and delight in equal measure. The catalogues are not overwhelmed by alternative recordings of these works, through Carl Ruggles' incredible early 20th century score has justly been given wider attention.
- GRAMMY® Award-winning conductor David Alan Miller has established a reputation as one of the leading American conductors of his generation, his Naxos recordings including the recent release of Michael Daugherty's Dreamachine (8.559807). His work with the National Orchestral Institute Philharmonic (NOIP) has resulted in a recording of John Corigliano's First Symphony (8.559782) that was considered "mightily impressive" by Gramophone, with MusicWeb International stating that "David Alan Miller is an impressive guide to this work and to the entire disc." "Conductor David Alan Miller's tempos are broad, letting the music breathe and allowing the composer's clear textures and melodic warmth to be fully revealed. The NOIP plays magnificently." (Audiophile Audition)
- The second release of the NOIP is conducted by James Ross (8.559822), and includes Randall Thompson's Second Symphony, Samuel Adam's Drift and Providence and the First Symphony of Samuel Barber. Of it Gramophone wrote, "It's as impressive as its predecessor in terms of the quality of orchestral execution ... this is a performance that grabs you and won't let go."

David Alan Miller

GRAMMY® Award-winning conductor David Alan Miller has established a reputation as one of the leading American conductors of his generation. Music director of the Albany Symphony since 1992, Miller has proven himself a creative and compelling orchestra builder and masterful interpreter of American contemporary music. Through commissioning and recording new works for orchestra alongside innovative educational and community outreach initiatives, he has reaffirmed the Albany Symphony's reputation as one of the nation's leading champions of American symphonic music and one of its most cutting-edge orchestras. In 2001, Miller won the ASCAP Morton Gould Award for Innovative Programming, and in 1999, ASCAP's first-ever Leonard Bernstein Award for Outstanding Educational Programming.

Inspired by the personality, prodigious technique and musicality of the cellist Gregor Piatigorsky, Castelnuovo-Tedesco's Cello Concerto is a work of imposing scale and demanding virtuosity, but also with a rare beauty and warmth of expression. This live recording documents the first professional performances of the concerto in more than 80 years, and is paired with playful and virtuosic freely composed transcriptions for cello and piano of Mozart, Rossini and Ravel that Castelnuovo-Tedesco made for Piatigorsky and Heifetz.

Key Features:

- Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco's career was interrupted by his move to America in 1939 to escape the Fascist regime in Italy. He worked as a film composer in Hollywood, and as a result his concert works have become neglected, and he is now best remembered as a composer for the guitar. There is something of an ongoing revival however, of which this program is a part.
- Acclaimed cellist Brinton Averil Smith appeared on our 'American Classics' album of music by Steven Gerber (8.559618), in which "[Kurt] Nikkanen and the extraordinary cellist Brinton Averil Smith bring out the changing moods and colors of the virtuosic 'Duo for Cello and Violin'" (Strings Magazine). "Gerber is indeed fortunate to have this disc performed by such an elite group of players... Here all are virtuosi in their own right as well as sounding thoroughly committed to the sound-world Gerber creates." (MusicWeb International)
- This release follows successful Houston Symphony recordings for Naxos, such as the "wonderfully lush" (The Dallas Morning News) version of Zemlinsky's Lyric Symphony (8.572048), and the GRAMMY® Award-winning recording of Alban Berg's Wozzeck (8.660390-91) in which "the orchestra plays stunningly." Cellist Brinton Averil Smith's performances have been lauded by reviewers praising his virtuosity and musical ideas rooted in the golden age of string playing. His debut recording of Rózsa's Cello Concerto received international acclaim, while his recording of Fauré's chamber music with Gil Shaham was chosen by multiple reviewers as one of the year's best. Smith's broadcast performances include CBS Sunday Morning and NPR's Performance Today and SymphonyCast, while his live YouTube performances of unusual cello works and virtuosic transcriptions have been viewed over one million times. Smith regularly performs with his wife, the pianist Evelyn Chen.

(Gramophone on Lotus under the moonlight), and volume 2 (8.573276) "reinforce Hosokawa's commitment to poetic representations of human presences in the natural world" (Gramophone).
- Conductor Jun Märkl's acclaimed 9-CD edition of Debussy's orchestral works has been brought together into a boxed set (8.509002), International Record Review describing it as "a fascinating and extensive collection that I recommend both to collectors who want to explore some of the rarities and also to anyone wanting to hear Märkl's impressively plated and imaginatively conducted performances of the major works." Jun Märkl's recording of Messiaen's Poèmes pour Mi (8.572174) was considered by Fanfare to be "the best recording around of a mesmerizing masterwork."

The opera La campana sommersa ('The Sunken Bell') is Respighi's operatic masterpiece. Agustín Barrios Mangoré was one of the greatest guitar virtuosi of his time and something of a pioneer in making recordings, which he began as early as 1910. His compositions offer a lexicon of technical and expressive devices for the guitar, from both the South American and European traditions. This penultimate volume in the series offers the scintillating Estudio No. 6, which demonstrates some of the composer's finest artistic characteristics such as poignant treble melodies and a mastery of harmonic progression. Other works include examples of the Paraguayan polka, the Zamba, Creole airs, the Serenata and many other pieces attesting to Barrios's inexhaustible individuality and variety.

Key Features:

  - Vol. 1 is on 8.554558 won a three-star award in The Penguin Guide: "Goni's ebb and flow of rubato is a natural response to the line of the music and her playing always sounds spontaneous. She is very well recorded, and the back-up documentation is first class."
- Vol. 2 is on 8.555718 won a three-star and special 'key' award in The Penguin Guide: "Enno Voorhorst's playing is of the highest order."
- Vol 3 is on 8.557807 about which MusicWeb International wrote: "The playing on the review disc is probably best described as impeccable, and technically inspiring."
- Celil Refik Kaya has already recorded Jorge Morel's guitar music for Naxos on 8.573514. About this disc American Record Guide wrote: "The performances are just perfect—he doesn't try to make the music more than it is, but he does realize the real heart in these pieces. If you don't know Morel's music, this is a wonderful chance to hear a healthy helping of pure delight."

Celil Refik Kaya was awarded First Prize at the JoAnn Falletta International Guitar Concerto Competition in 2012 and has since received multiple awards from several prestigious American guitar competitions, as well as the Rising Young Musician of the Year by the Donizetti Classical Music Awards in Istanbul in 2017. Kaya has performed in the most prestigious concert halls and festivals around the US and Turkey, including Carnegie Hall, The Frick Collection Museum, NYCGS, Round Top, Brevard and Ankara International Music Festival, as well as numerous radio and TV broadcasts throughout the United States and Turkey. Toshiro MAYUZUMI (1929–1997)

Samsara

Phonologie Symphonique · Bacchanale

Hong Kong Philharmonic Orchestra · Yoshikazu Fukumura

Toshiro Mayuzumi was one of Japan's foremost 20th-century composers, enjoying a distinguished international reputation on a par with that of Toru Takemitsu, as well as that of an enfant terrible of the post-war Japanese music world. Versatile and prolific, he contributed music for films, the theatre, the 1964 Tokyo Olympics and broadcasts. His enthusiasm for avant-garde Western music led him to study in Paris, and the Phonologie Symphonique is a synthesis of Varèse-like acoustical experiment and serial techniques. The jazz-tinted Bacchanale is Mayuzumi's attempt to produce 'a cosmos of sounds reflecting the vital energies of the origin of music', and the symphonic poem Samsara is a musical expression of Buddhist teaching, an attempt to escape the seemingly endless cycle of birth and rebirth.

Key Features:

This recording first appeared in 1984 on the Marco Polo label (8.220297). Our relationship with the Hong Kong Philharmonic Orchestra has been one of the most fruitful from the early days of Naxos to the present, right up to their irreplaceable contribution to our brand-new Wagner Ring cycle conducted by Jaap van Zweden.

Japanese conductor Yoshikazu Fukumura is formerly music director of the Tokyo City Ballet Company, the Kyoto Municipal Symphony, the Nagoya Philharmonic Orchestra and the Sendai Philharmonic Orchestra. He received national recognition in Japan for conducting the NHK TV concert series entitled Music of the World in 1970. Apart from conducting widely in Japan, he has also given many acclaimed performances abroad with orchestras in Europe,

Latin America and Asia. He is currently music director and principal conductor of the Philippine Philharmonic Orchestra.

Alexander MOYZES (1906–1984) Symphonies Nos. 1 and 2

Slovak Radio Symphony Orchestra · Ladislav Slovák

Along with Suchoň and Cikker, Alexander Moyzes was one of the leading Slovak composers of his generation. His compositional style was inspired by the folk music and beautiful landscapes of his native land, but also took account of contemporary trends in European music after the First World War. These early symphonies, infused with Moyzes' masterful orchestration and control of counterpoint, signify a new period in 20th-century Slovak music.

Key Features:

- This is a reissue of Marco Polo 8.225088 originally released in 2000, and a part of the complete Moyzes symphonic cycle. Fanfare wrote of the original release: "A disc no collection of 20th-century symphony can do without. Bring on the remaining 10!"
- Moyzes was responsible for teaching almost every important Slovak composer during the central part of the 20th century.
- ClassicsToday.com wrote: "Moyzes' music is engaging, well crafted, and beautifully orchestrated - qualities clearly understood and successfully conveyed by Ladislav Slovák and his Slovak Radio Symphony Orchestra."
- Conductor, the late Ladislav Slovák (he died in 1999) recorded a Shostakovich symphony cycle for Naxos that received fair reviews but has been largely overlooked in the decades since. His teacher and mentor was the great Czech conductor Václav Talich.

François Devienne's series of wind compositions was pivotal in making his name synonymous with that of the flute. This final volume in the series includes Concerto No. 13, which ranks alongside his finest concertos with its profuse thematic ideas and sophisticated orchestral writing. As a leading virtuoso in Paris, Devienne was perfectly placed to write Symphonies concertantes, glittering showcases that remain among the best of their kind. Giovanni Battista Viotti's arrangement of one of his best-known Violin Concertos makes an ideal companion piece to the other works on this recording.

Key Features:

- This is the last volume in the series. Volume 1 was on 8.573230, of which The New York Times wrote: "A breezy, graceful cheer suffuses this lovely recording of flute concertos by François Devienne, one of the late 18th-century masters of the genre. This is home territory for the French flutist Patrick Gallois and the blazing, fleet-footed Swedish Chamber Orchestra, and their collaboration feels natural and joyful." Volumes 2 and 3 was on 8.573464 and 8.573465 respectively.
- Patrick Gallois has a wide repertoire both as a conductor and as a flautist, with a predilection for contemporary music, and many new works have been dedicated to him. His recordings include for Naxos include the complete Flute Concertos of C.P.E. Bach (8.557515-16), and symphonies by Haydn Symphonies (8.557571 and 8.557771) and Gounod (8.557463), among other works. His recording for Naxos of Kraus's Aeneas i Cartago (8.570585) was awarded a Choc (Musica) in April 2010. His recording of the Violin Concertos of Saint-Saëns with Fanny Clamagirand (8.572037) was awarded a further Choc (Musica) in February 2011 and a Diapason d'Or in March 2011. ### Ludwig van BEETHOVEN (1770–1827) Works for Flute, Vol. 2

Kazunori Seo, Flute . Mitsuo Kodama, Bassoon . Makoto Ueno, Piano

Beethoven's mastery in all genres extends to the sequence of music he wrote involving the flute. The Serenade in D major may have a somewhat convoluted history, but it illustrates the creative purposes to which Beethoven put traditional material and the inventive contrasts he embedded into this six-movement work. Both the Sonata in B flat major and the Trio in G major probably date from his years in Bonn. The former includes a lively Polacca and the latter ingeniously suggests the famous 'Mannheim Rocket'. Volume 1 is available on 8.573569.

Key Features:

Flautist Kazunori Seo is a specialist of the late-Classical/early-Romantic period. His recordings for Naxos currently include Flute Concertos by Leopold Hofmann (8.554747 and 8.554748), music by Karl and Franz Doppler (8.570378), music by Ignaz Moscheles (8.573175) and music by Carl Czerny (8.573335).

- Seo is paired with pianist Makoto Ueno in the Moscheles disc, which received an American Record Guide Critic's Choice award. The review concluded that it is "one of the best records" of 2014
- Seo and Ueno also teamed up on the Czerny disc: "The pianist's crystalline sound befits the atmosphere of classicism that tends to linger over Czerny's output, and the flute playing is marvellous." (American Record Guide)
- Bassoonist Mitsuo Kodama also appeared in Volume 1 of this series (8.573569), in which he and Seo performed Beethoven's Three Duets, WoO 27.

Gloria Coates's personal sound-world is unlike any other in contemporary music. Her Piano Quintet is rooted in the poetry of fellow American pioneer Emily Dickinson, with half of the quartet tuned a quarter-tone higher than the other, the strange beauty of the music emerging in glacial landscapes and shimmering microtones. Coates's Symphony No. 10 evokes the archaeological ruins of a Celtic tribe, inspiring a torrent of dramatic percussion and long held tones that curve and shake in a moving body of sound.

Key Features:

- Gloria Coates is the most prolific female symphonist in musical history, and Naxos has an emerging series of her symphonic, chamber and other major works.
- Symphony No. 15 is on 8.559371 about which Fanfare wrote: "the new symphony is still a jaw-dropper."

Violinist Peter Sheppard Skærved is a long-time interpreter of Coates' music. As first violinist in the Kreutzer Quartet he has given the world premiere recordings of a number of her works - specifically he has also recorded her Solo Violin Sonata on 8.559666 where Quartet No. 9 is also played. Fanfare wrote of Coates and the disc: "As the saying goes, when God gave out talent, she

Hanz Werner HENZE (1926–2012) Violin and Viola Works

Peter Sheppard Skærved, Violin and Viola • Roderick Chadwick, Piano

The sonatas recorded here encompass almost the entirety of Hans Werner Henze's creative life. Composed in difficult conditions just after WWII, the Violin Sonata covers the broadest range of human emotions, and is in some ways a study for the extraordinary First Violin Concerto (recorded by Peter Sheppard Skærved on 8.557738). Steeped in Italian mythology, the Solo Violin Sonata is 'a real piece of theatre', as is the emotionally shattering Viola Sonata, written straight after the completion of the ballet Orpheus. The Violin Sonatina is drawn from Henze's children's opera Pollicino, and the two remaining miniatures are memorials for lost colleagues.

Key Features:

- Internationally acclaimed violin virtuoso Peter Sheppard Skærved's close connection with Hans Werner Henze is well recognized, and this release follows on from his recordings of Henze's First and Third Violin Concertos (8.557738) "having some seriously emotional meat on the bones of this traditional form" (MusicWeb International), and the Second Violin Concerto (8.573289) summed up as "a superb disc... highly recommended" by Gramophone.
- This is the first recording to bring together Henze's solo sonatas for violin and viola, as well as the early Violin Sonata and later Violin Sonatina. Peter Sheppard Skærved recorded the composer's revised 1992 version of the Solo Violin Sonata on the Metier label in 2000, but returns to the 1977 original for this Naxos recording, completing a deal with the composer to "see who is right!"
- Pianist Roderick Chadwick also appears with Peter Sheppard Skærved in a program of "splendid performances" (The Strad) of chamber works by Gloria Coates (8.559666), and with violinist Nazrin Rashidova in works by Leopold Godowsky (8.573058), that "are crisper, more persuasive and better recorded" than the competition, according to Gramophone.

Johann Simon MAYR (1763–1845) Venetian Solo Motets

Andrea Lauren Brown, Soprano · Markus Schäfer, Tenor · Virgil Mischok, Bass I Virtuosi Italiani • Franz Hauk

Johann Simon Mayr became one of the most popular opera composers in Europe in the period preceding Rossini, but his younger career in the last decades of the 18th century was largely as a church musician, dividing his time between his native Bergamo and Venice. Often taking the form of small-scale religious operas, his Venetian solo motets were tailor-made for the singers of the day, with notable results, as can be heard in the soaring expressiveness of Exsurge, anima, the cavatina-style melodies of O Deus, quot me circumdant, and the contrasting atmospheres of fear, dread and serenity in Qual colpa eterno Dio.

Key Features:

Franz Hauk is the world's leading expert and exponent of the music of Johann Simon Mayr, and his numerous new editions and recordings of operatic and other vocal works by this composer is internationally recognized as highly significant: "Naxos's project of recording the major works of Simon Mayr is an extremely important event, introducing to most of us a composer of genuine individuality and importance." (Fanfare on the cantata Arianna in Nasso, 8.573065)

All of the soloists here have a close association with Franz Hauk's Simon Mayr project. Soprano Andrea Lauren Brown has recorded for OehmsClassics and for Naxos in several recordings of Mayr's oratorios and other vocal works. Fanfare noted that "Andrea Lauren Brown as [Cloe] impresses in her florid music, with its coloratura jumps at the end sounding free and easy" in Donizetti's cantata Aristea (8.573360). Mayr's opera Saffo (8.660367-68) brought together Andrea Lauren Brown with tenor Markus Schäfer, who has recorded for labels such as OehmsClassics, Orfeo, Capriccio and Hänssler Classic. "The title role gets the main share of the opera's big moments and Andrea Lauren Brown makes the most of them" (Gramophone); "There are several impressive voices here, notably those of tenor Markus Schäfer as Alceo (whose singing of the male version of bel canto elements is unusually good)... (Infodad.com). Bass Virgil Mischok is one of the soloists in Litanae Lauretanae (8.573782) together with Brown and Schäfer: "all are technically solid and suitable for the music at hand..." ### Fernando LOPES-GRAÇA (1906–1994) Songs and Folk Songs

Susana Gaspar, Soprano · Cátia Moreso, Mezzo-Soprano Fernando Guimarães, Tenor · Nuno Vieira de Almeida, Piano

Fernando Lopes-Graça was arguably the greatest Portuguese composer of the second half of the 20th century. He absorbed successive stylistic influences, but the core of his musical impulses lay in the folk music of his native country, a feature especially evident in his songs. The originality and complexity of his harmonisations, the vivid and communicative beauty of his sets of Christmas Songs and the subtlety of his settings of Russian and Hungarian songs illustrate a complete mastery of this aspect of his multifaceted art.

Key Featutres:

- This is one in a small series of music by Portuguese composer Fernando Lopes-Graça on Naxos.
- 8.572892 has thea Symphony for Orchestra, about which American Record Guide wrote: "this new Naxos offers a fresh and tangy personality to listeners unfamiliar Lopes-Graça...'

- This disc was also a MusicWeb International 'Recording of the Year': "his generous release including his impressive Symphony is most welcome and is the best possible introduction to Lopes-Graça's music so far. Both performances and recording are excellent."
- The Piano Concertos are on 8.572817. Fanfare wrote: "The Portuguese orchestra shines under the distinguished baton of Bamert. All in all, this is a high-quality production...'

Ferdinand RIES (1784–1838) Complete Works for Cello, Vol. 1 Cello Sonatas

Martin Rummel, Cello • Stefan Stroissnig, Piano

Ferdinand Ries's life and work are inextricably intertwined with those of his friend and teacher Beethoven, and both Cello Sonatas, Op. 20 and Op. 21 were dedicated to cellist Bernhard Romberg, who performed regularly with Beethoven. Ries exploits Romberg's extraordinary sound quality in the lower register of the cello in music that resonates with references to colleagues such as Haydn and Hummel. Ries's final Cello Sonata, Op. 125, completes a triptych that richly deserves its place in the cello repertoire.

Key Features:

- This release joins an ongoing program of releases of music by neglected composer Ferdinand Ries. This has included an edition of his complete piano sonatas and sonatinas played by Susan Kagan, to whom "classical music lovers owe a debt of gratitude for rescuing these attractive keyboard creations from the undeserved obscurity that they've been languishing in for the past two centuries or so" (Halesowen News on Vol. 4, 8.572299). Volume 1 of the Violin Sonatas (8.573193) was regarded as "simply too good to miss" by MusicWeb International, and the Piano Concertos, regarded by The Penguin Guide as having "sparkling performances...the recording is first rate." (Vol 3, 8.570440).
- Acclaimed cellist Martin Rummel has recorded widely for labels including Paladino Music and Capriccio. His recordings for Naxos include works for cello and piano by Joseph Merk (8.572759) of which the Nineteenth-Century Music Review stated that "the performances...are quite beautiful." His recording of Reinhold Glière's 'Complete Duets with Cello' (8.572713) also attracted critical acclaim: "the performances from Martin Rummel are fervently drawn and especially brilliant..." (The Strad)

Recordings by pianist Stefan Stroissnig include Beethoven's Second and Fourth Piano Concertos with the RSO Wien conducted by Heinrich Schiff on the Gramola Records label, and his recording of the Four Impromptus Op. 90 by Franz Schubert and the Sonata in B minor by Franz Liszt was awarded the 'Pasticcio Prize' by Austrian Radio.

Tengyue Zhang won the 2017 Guitar Foundation of America (GFA) International Concert Artist Competition, one of the world's most prestigious events. His debut recital illustrates the moods, colours and techniques of the concert classical guitar from baroque transcriptions to masters of the twentieth-century genre such as Castelnuovo-Tedesco, Tansman and Brouwer. Despite being from very different backgrounds and time periods, several of the pieces share intriguing relationships in their use of variation form or thematic motifs and harmonic progressions.

Key Features:

- Aside from the GFA, Tengyue Zhang has also won first prizes at other well-known competitions - Austria's Forum Gitarre Wien International Youth Competition, the Changsha International Guitar Competition, the 2017 Schadt String Competition, and the 2017 Alexander Frauchi International Competition in Moscow.
- His performance for the 2017 New York Guitar Festival was broadcast on WQXR radio. He will be very visible during 2018 as the GFA prize leads him on a concert tour starting in 2018 of over 50 cities in North America, including his recital debut in Carnegie Weill Hall, with additional dates in Europe, South America and his native China.

TCHAIKOVSKY Potpourri

Potpourri on Themes from the Opera Voyevoda Theme with Variations in A minor • Allegro in F minor Lance Coburn, Piano

8.573844 Price Code: NXP

Playing Time: 69:14

Pyotr II'yich TCHAIKOVSKY (1840–1893) Potpourri

Lance Coburn, Piano

Award-winning pianist Lance Coburn has been schooled in and inspired by the Russian pianistic tradition, and sees this 'potpourri' of rarities as something akin to a snapshot of Tchaikovsky's more famous works. Ranging from wistful sentiment to fiery complexity, the Theme with Variations comes from Tchaikovskycs period of studies at the St Petersburg Conservatory, while the transcriptions include a medley of themes rescued from the early opera Voyevoda, the emotionally charged Aveu passionné, and a Coronation March that the composer described as 'noisy but bad'.

Key Features:

- The works in this charming and fascinating program fall into the category of 'rarities' that are more often found in complete editions but hardly ever beyond. The title 'Potpourri' is apt here in many regards, the works here spanning Tchaikovsky's student days to a Military March in B-flat composed in the year of his death. The only piece actually composed for solo piano is the Theme and Variations in A minor, but this takes nothing away from collection that provides valuable
  - but this takes nothing away from collection that provides valuable insights into Tchaikovsky's less frequently explored output, and delivers a recital of unique attractiveness.
- Pianist Lance Coburn from New Zealand makes his Naxos debut with this recording. Since winning first prize at the Tomassoni International Piano Competition, Cologne in 2001, Lance has performed all over the world both as a concerto soloist and recitalist.

Franz LISZT (1811–1886) Complete Piano Music, Vol. 50 Ungarischer Romanzero

Warren Lee, Piano

The eighteen Ungarischer Romanzero are transcriptions of popular Hungarian melodies made partially in collaboration with violinist Ede Reményi. The manuscripts are not always complete, with space for performers to add their own elaborations, or to follow Liszt's own hints on his own performances of pieces that give valuable insights into his Hungarian influences in their rawest form. The Hungarian National Melodies provide opportunities for amateur players, while the hugely popular Rákóczi March became the unofficial national anthem of Hungary, also being used by Berlioz and other composers.

Key Features:

Pianist Warren Lee made his televised début with the Hong Kong Philharmonic Orchestra at the age of six and was the first-prize winner of the 1995 Stravinsky Awards International Piano Competition and the Grand Prix Ivo Pogorelich. His discography includes many acclaimed albums of solo and chamber music repertoire. The American Record Guide called him a "first-rate artist" while Fanfare noted that he is "a pianist to watch out, whether as a soloist or chamber musician." Accompanying violinist Hyejin Chung, he has recorded Friedrich Seitz's Concertos for Violin and Piano (8.573801) and Schubert's Violin Sonatas (8.573579) in which "Hyejin Chung and Warren Lee...are a perfect match" (audiotechnique). His recording of piano works by Leonard Bernstein and Tan Dun (Digital Exclusive 9.70252) was described as "exquisite in every respect" by the American Becord Guide

The Golden Bowl

By Henry James Unabridged Read by Juliet Stevenson

Wealthy Maggie Verver has everything she could ever ask for – except for a husband, and a title. While in Italy, acquiring art for his museum back in the states, Maggie's millionaire father Adam decides to remedy this and acquire a husband for Maggie. Enter Prince Amerigo, of a titled, but now poor, aristocratic Florentine family. Amerigo is the perfect candidate. Delighted, Maggie then reciprocates by choosing a partner for her widower father: childhood friend Charlotte Stant. The stage is set, and what unfolds is a deep and gripping exploration of fidelity and the politics of love and marriage. Published in 1904, The Golden Bowl displays Henry James at his finest: James weaves scene upon scene, set piece upon set piece, into a seamless whole, through a richly dense tapestry of beautiful, flowing prose. Along with The Ambassadors and The Wings of the Dove, it constitutes James's final, and most rewarding, phase as a novelist.

Justine

By The Marquis de Sade Unabridged Read by Polly Edsell and Nicholas Boulton

Underneath the patina of civilised society lies the Sadean demimonde: a bundle of lustful appetites fueled by momentary impulse and a desire for unfettered indulgence. And the target of this savagery: Justine de Bertole, a pious and virginal heroine. While her amoral sister Juliette gets all the wonders in the world, virtuous and faithful Justine is subjected to punishment after punishment at the hands of sadistic and abusive deviants. Grotesque, inhumane and compelling, Sade's novel overturns Rousseau's views of the social contract, and the common trope that punishment only visits sinners, to deliver a passionate treatise on good and evil, virtue and sin.

Arabian Sands

By Wilfred Thesiger Unabridged Read by Laurence Kennedy

Arabian Sands is Wilfred Thesiger's stunning account of five years spent crossing the Arabian Peninsula by foot and on camels, with nomadic Bedouin tribesmen as guides. Travelling between 1945 and 1950, the British explorer treks through Yemen, The Empty Quarter, Oman and parts of the then Trucial States, crossing and re-crossing around 250,000 miles of this most inhospitable terrain. He was the first European ever to set eyes on the dunes and wadis of these deserts. Faced with constant challenges and trials beneath the punishing sun, his journey is also spiritual and enriching, as it requires the utmost courage, patience, generosity and humour. In clear and evocative prose, Thesiger documents a journey of unimaginable hardship and startling beauty, as well as a time, place and people on the cusp of change.
